Cake stand / serving board: 35cm diameter x 6cm depth approx.

Our process

1. Place your order

Fill in the Booking Form on our website. Choose your product(s) and how you want them to look. Tell us when your flowers will be arriving so we can book a timeslot for your product to be made.

2. Deliver your flowers to us

We will then, carefully preserve your flowers, ready for the design of your product.

3. We design and custom make your product

Have as little or as much input as you like during the design stage. We can arrange your flowers how you like them, and then, with your approval, finish making your product.

Alternatively, if you prefer us take the creative lead, we're happy to design your product for you

4. Your product is ready for collection or delivery!

Payment

If your event is within 3 weeks, full payment is required, otherwise we will ask you to pay a 50% deposit, and to pay the balance before you send your flowers to us. We will not preserve flowers or make products without full payment being made first.

Enhance your home decor with a stunning custom table, decorative bowl, or art piece crafted using flowers from one of your most beautiful days.

Preserve memories. Hold on to the memories long after your wedding day with a lasting piece of furniture or art made from your wedding flowers. Keep your special memories alive in everyday life.

Emotional significance. Cherish the emotional significance of your wedding flowers as a symbol of your new beginning, hope and love as you start a new life and home together

Add value. Repurposing your bouquet into something lasting will add value to flowers that would otherwise wilt and be discarded. With our expertise and creativity your flowers can be repurposed, to make a beautiful tables art piece or bowls you can cherish for years to come.

Frequently asked questions

How soon to book? We recommend booking your preservation as soon as you can to secure your preferred time slot, even if your event is months away.

How to book? Please complete the Booking Form on our website, letting us know the date of your occasion, what product(s) you would like along with any design features you prefer.

How to send flowers to us? Once we receive your completed booking form, we will be in touch with instructions on how to get your flowers to us after the event.

When to send flower? For best results, it's preferable to preserve flowers when they are still fresh. We recommend sending your flower arrangement within one or two days if possible.

Can flowers be dropped off? Certainly! Flowers can be hand-delivered to Deal, Kent, CT14 by appointment. In fact, we encourage you to hand deliver your flowers because they are less likely to get knocked and damaged than if they are posted, even if you do mark the package as 'fragile' and 'handle with care'. Please email contact@wemakeithome.co.uk to ensure we are available to receive your flowers on arrival.

How are flowers preserved? We deconstruct your bouquet and carefully preserve each flower. Our main technique for this involves using silica gel, a desiccant, which absorbs moisture, drying the flower, while preserving its natural shape. We also use flower pressing, and food dehydration, for certain foliage and fruits.

Frequently asked questions

How do you encase flowers in resin? After drying, your flowers are arranged, and several thin layers of liquid resin are poured carefully over the petals. Each liquid resin layer must be allowed time to cure and harden before subsequent layers are poured. This process takes a few weeks. Any bruises on petals may become more pronounced and small bubbles often arise in the resin. These minor imperfections are natural and contribute to the individuality and charm of your custom hand-made piece.

Do preserved flowers look the same as fresh flowers? During flower preservation moisture is removed from the flower, which often effects its colour. Red may shift to purple or burgundy/black, white may change to cream / yellow, pale pink and purples may fade, or deepen. This is natural, beautiful, AND most importantly, they remain YOUR original flowers.

Will you use all my flowers? Not all flowers may be used to make your product and we cannot return any unused flowers to you.

Excess flowers may be repurposed for creating small additional items, such as our decorative bowls which can be ordered using the Booking Form on our website.

How do I care for my resin / art / bowl?

We only use UV stable high-quality resin. Despite this, we do not advise you leave your resin product outside, or inside in direct sunlight exposure to be on the safe side.

To clean, resin products can be wiped with a soft damp cloth. Avoid using chemicals when cleaning resin.

Terms and conditions

Design Process

- Design: We will design your product according to the design preference marked on your Booking Form, including arrangement of flowers, resin colour and, where applicable, species of wood. If you prefer us to take charge of the design process, we will design your product on your behalf.
- Design Approval of larger items only (tables, wall art): Before we seal your flowers in resin, you will be provided with a final design photo for approval. Please note, once the resin is poured, no additional changes can be made.
- Design Revisions: You are allowed two design revisions. Any additional revisions beyond these may elongate the timeline for completion and incur a fee of £25 for each extra request.
- Design Adjustments: If the design you requested cannot be achieved with the available flowers, we will work to create a design that best suits the materials available.
- Timely Approval: Once we provide you with the final design photo for approval, please respond within 5 days, sooner if you can. If we do not hear back from you in this timeframe, we will proceed with sealing your flowers in resin, and completing your product.

Flower Preservation

- Flower Usage: Depending on the species and condition of certain flowers and the size of the product being created for you, not every flowers from your bouquet will be included in the final design.
- Colour Variations: Please be aware that flowers may fade, darken, or change in appearance during the preservation process. This is natural, and it is important to understand that no preservation method can stop these changes.
- Colour Correction: We do not offer colour correction/enhancement of flowers. Your flowers will be preserved without colour enhancement.
- Leftover Flowers: Please do not send anything that you would like back as we cannot return anything. This includes certain flowers, ribbon, or any other attachments to your bouquet.

Additional Terms

- Handcrafted Nature: All products are handcrafted and unique. Minor imperfections are natural and contribute to the individuality of each piece. This includes but is not limited to flowers shifting position slightly in the resin as it cures, bruising on petals becoming more apparent in resin, flowers changing colour in resin, bubbles appearing in resin as it cures.
- Terminology in this document: Use of the term 'We' refers to Maria and Dan Underwood of 102 Glastone Road, CT14 7EP, founders of We Make it Home (www.wemakeithome.co.uk) (contact@wemakeithome.co.uk). 'You' refers to you the Customer.
